A Volume of Poems.

We have received from the bookstore of Mr. A. H. Hunter, under the United States Hotel, a very beautiful little volume, entitled " Buena Vista and Other Poems," by G. W. CUTTER, and bearing the imprint of Morgan & Overend, Cincinnati, 1848.

We have read all the poems of this volume with care, many of them with admiration, and and co some of them with much regret that the author has embraced them in his volume. Buena Vista has great power, originality, and music : it transports the mind, like the rush of a battle,

The author seldom essays satire, and it is well. He has powers of ridicule sufficient to make him feared and hated with a righteous horror.

In his minor productions there is evidenced a strange and culpable regardlessness of rhyme and rythm, for which he should be held amenable to every recognized authority. His position is in the highest pathway of literature, and he go must not idly

Florida Democratic State Convention. CHARLESTON, April 26, 1852.

On the 19th instant the Democratic State contion of Florida assembled, and nominated James E. Broome, esq , as their candidate for governor; A. T. Maxwell for Congress; and D. L. Yulee and Dr. D. W. Spencer delegates at large to the Baltimore National Convention.

A series of resolutions were adopted-the first of which reaffirms the resolutions of the Virginia convention of 1848, and the second endorses the resolutions adopted by the Baltimore Democratic Convention of 1844. The third resolution deprecates the revival of any past issues, and the fourth appoints fourteen delegates to the Baltimore National Convention. They are sent uninstructed, no preference being expressed by the convention.

The first choice of the delegates elected is understood to be for Douglas for President, and Jefferson Davis for Vice President.
